The Family Care Office and the Cheng Yu Tung East Asian Library invite U of T community members and their families to celebrate Lunar New Year. Lunar New Year is one of the most important celebrations of the year in many East and Southeast Asian cultures. Communities celebrate in different ways, at different times. U of T community members will share about ways of celebrating, and activities will be available for children. Join us at the East Asian Library to learn more about various traditions, and to celebrate Lunar New Year! Food generously provided by the East Asian Library.
