

Endicott Exhibition

HOSTED BY THE CHENG YU TUNG EAST ASIAN LIBRARY; SPONSORED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF EAST ASIAN STUDIES

EDUCATION FOR TROUBLED TIMES

THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF JAMES G. ENDICOTT (1898-1993)

D Discover the extraordinary life of James G. Endicott, a Canadian missionary, educator, and peace activist who shaped 20th-century China-Canada relations. This exhibition traces his transformative journey—from his missionary work in West China through war and revolution to his role as a leading voice for peace during the Cold War. Explore a captivating collection of artifacts, hear Endicott's own reflections, and experience the heartfelt memories of those who knew him best. Step into a story that bridges continents, conflicts, and cultures. This exhibition is curated by Mark Lush and Kara Kaifang Ma, Ph.D. candidates in the Department of East Asian Studies, University of Toronto.

EXHIBITION AND OPENING CEREMONY

Exhibition Date

11 AM - 5 PM, Mon. to Fri.
February 7 - April 30, 2025

Opening Ceremony

February 7, 2025, 3 PM - 5 PM
(doors open at 2:30 PM)

Location

Cheng Yu Tung East Asian Library,
on the 8th floor of Robarts Library
(130 St. George Street)

Opening Ceremony Registration

Scan the QR code to register or visit the URL : forms.gle/Jfo4R6spKzBkAuqYA

Image: Portrait of James G. Endicott, circa 1950s.

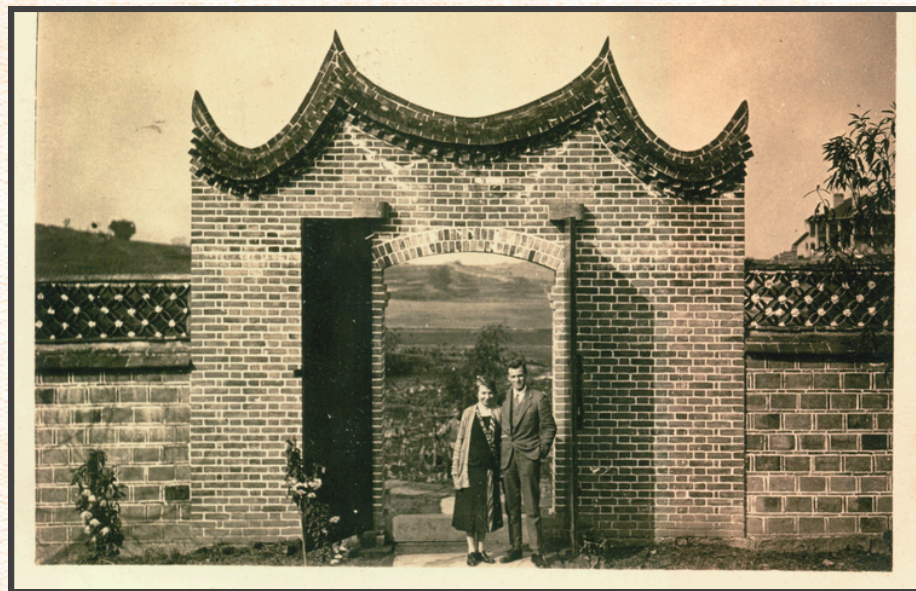

Image: James G. Endicott and Mary Austin Endicott's first residence after arriving in Chongqing. They lived at Duckling Pond, a small hamlet across the Yangtze River from the city. Circa 1925.

PRESENTATION

Speaker

Professor Joan Judge

Joan Judge is a Professor in the Department of History at York University in Toronto, Canada.

During the opening ceremony, on February 7th. Professor Judge will deliver a talk on "Missionary Beginnings: Sinology and Politics in the Lives of James Mellon Menzies and James G. Endicott."

ROBARTS LIBRARY VISITOR ACCESS

Members of the public wishing to view the exhibition can request access to Robarts Library by scanning the QR code and completing an online form at least 2 days before your visit. Approved visitors will receive library email confirmations. Please bring the visit confirmation and a valid government-issued photo ID to the front desk at Robarts Library (130 St. George St).

For accommodations and inquiries related to the opening event, please email us at eal.events@utoronto.ca.