

The Cheng Yu Tung East Asian Library, University of Toronto, presents

INAUGURAL COLLABORATIVE CONCERT

Cheng Yu Tung East Asian Library & East Asian Music in the Contemporary World (EAMCW) Initiative

Free admission. Registration required.
Space is limited; early registration recommended.

Tuesday, February 10, 2026 | 7:00–9:15 PM

Innis Town Hall, Innis College, University of Toronto
2 Sussex Ave, Toronto

Registration required at <https://libcal.library.utoronto.ca/event/3993940>, or by scanning the QR code on the left.

Please contact eal.events@utoronto.ca for inquiries.

Experience the Inaugural Collaborative Concert, bringing East Asian music in the contemporary world to life! This special event is a collaboration between the Cheng Yu Tung East Asian Library and the EAMCW Initiative. The evening features the world premiere of new compositions by Dr. Hippocrates Cheng, Artistic Director and Composer, for East Asian instruments, performed by six talented Toronto-based musicians conducted by Dr. Matthew Poon.

Attendees can also enjoy artist conversations during the concert and a pre-concert East Asian music book exhibition.

East Asian Music in the Contemporary World (EAMCW) Initiative is a creative-research initiative in collaboration with North America-based artists and scholars of East Asian music and its contemporary expressions. The project aims to promote contemporary music for East Asian instruments and provides a vibrant platform where performers, scholars, students, and community members can experience, reflect on, and engage in dialogue about East Asian music in fresh and innovative contexts.